PASSENGER RATES 2 CENTS PER MILE

Two Bills Reducing Fares
Introduced in the Assembly Today.

ON ALL STATE ROADS

Another Bill Granting Power to City Common Councils to Alter Franchises,

WORK IN LEGISLATURE TODAY

Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—Two bills reducing railway passenger rates to two cents were introduced in the assembly today. One by Miller, making the reduction apply only to roads earning over $8,500 a mile, the other by Sulkworth, making a straight two cent fare on all roads in Wisconsin.

Another important bill by Assemblyman Owen, delegates to the city council the power to alter the franchise of street railway companies without the consent of owner of the franchise. The supreme court has held that under the present law this power is held only by the legislature.

Re-apportionment Committee.

The contest over the re-apportionment committee was settled this morning by an amendment passed by both houses making the membership of the committee one senator and two assemblymen from each congressional district, thirty in all.

In the senate Mosher introduced a bill making insurance companies liable for loss by fire on buildings which fall or are blown down through no fault of the owner and afterwards take fire.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—A bill which has the backing of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities providing for biennial elections in all cities in the state except Milwaukee was introduced in the senate this morning by Senator Miller of this city. It provides in all cities except those of the first class the term of the mayor shall be two years, and of aldermen four years. The bill also fixes a salary for the mayor, which in cities of the second class (of which there are none in the state) shall not be more than $1,500 and in cities of the third and fourth class not more than $1,000 per year, the exact amount within this figure to be fixed by the common council. The mayor's salary is not to be increased or diminished during the biennial period.

All city officials not elected by the people are to be appointed by the mayor, except the members of the school board who shall be elected by the council. The president of the council is to be elected by that body.

Another provision of the bill, which settles a long disputed point is that the mayor shall not have a vote in the council except in case of a tie.

Lobbyists Are Registering.

The lobbyists are beginning to register. M. C. Ring went into the secretary of state's office yesterday afternoon and presented a certificate signed by Marvin Hughtt showing that he is the accredited legislative agent and counsel to look after the interests of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company. Two books are kept in the secretary of state's office, one for agents; and the other for counsel. To make a certainty of conforming with the law, Mr. Ring took an extra dip into the state's ink and registered in both books.

J. H. Hubbard of Baraboo, H. A. Rowe of South Kaukauna and John Maxcy of Antigo registered as representing the brotherhood of railway trainmen. The first two named are conductors and the last a brakeman.

Anti-Cigarette Bill.

The assembly committee on health and sanitation unanimously voted to report for passage the Overbeck anti-cigarette bill, which absolutely prohibits the manufacture, sale or giving away in this state of cigarettes or cigarette paper to any person. The bill it is said on excellent authority, will pass the lower house almost without a dissenting vote, and there is good reason to believe that Assemblyman Overbeck has a majority of the senate committed to the measure.

Pardons by Gov. Scofield.

Gov. LaFollette sent to the senate and the assembly the report of ex-Gov. Scofield on pardons granted by the former governor during his last two years in office and his reason for granting each. In the two years thirty-three prisoners in the state penitentiary were pardoned, fifteen in the Milwaukee house of correction, twenty-five in county jails, one in the Wisconsin Industrial school for boys and the sentence of two prisoners at Waupun were commuted. Gov. Scofield restored thirty-five persons to citizenship who had lost that right by virtue of serving in the penitentiaries. Of the pardons, nine prisoners were serving for murder.

Waiting for Insurance Report.

The question of insurance taxation depends largely on the next report of the tax commission. The commissioners, N. S. Gilson, George Curtis, Jr., and W. J. Anderson, are now at work on the report of that part of the commission's investigation. It will be ready in about three weeks. It is the question of life insurance that is the most difficult, owing to the widely differing of the commission views as to the methods of taxation and retaliatory legislation which it excites in other states.

Veterans' Home Wants Money.

The board of trustees of the Wisconsin Veterans' Home in session decided to have a bill prepared for presentation to the Legislature providing for a $50,000 appropriation. Of this amount $38,000 is to be used to pay the debt of $40,000 incurred by reason of the improvements made whereby the capacity of the home was increased from fifty to 700. The plan is to spend $10,000 in the erection of a dormitory for unmarried men.

Saloon Men Have a Bill.

The leading saloon keepers of Milwaukee have joined issues with the temperance people of the state and are pushing a bill in the legislature which is designed to raise the saloon licenses in the larger cities from $200 to $300, and at the same time abolish the free lunch feature in saloons. They want it to be made a misdemeanor for a saloon keeper to give away a lunch with the drinks that he sells.

JOHN BULL WILL ACCEPT THE TREATY

Cabinet Decides to Sign Hay-Pauncefote Paper With Certain Minor Amendments.

London, Jan. 18.—The cabinet met this afternoon to consider the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and the amendments thereto. The meeting was strictly secret, no information being given out. According to the opinion of several high authorities, however, the cabinet will accept the amendments with several minor safeguards to British interests.

Washington, Jan. 18.—A caucus of republican senators this morning decided that the senate should not proceed with the consideration of the Isthmian canal bill until after Great Britain shall have an opportunity to pass the amended Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

STOCK MEN AGAINST THE GROUT BILL

Convention at Salt Lake Adopts a Strong Memorial to U. S. Senate Opposing the Measure

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 13.—The National Live Stock Association adopted a strong memorial addressed to the United States senate, against the Grout bill at its session today. The memorial recites many reasons for the live stock men's opposition to the measure, among others that it is class legislation calculated to build up one industry at the expense of another and would destroy the demand for that product of beef, oil of oleo, of which 24,000,000 pounds were used in 1889 in the manufacture of oleomargarine.

The protest declares also that the bill would injure the hog industry by killing the demand for neutral lard, millions of pounds of which are used annually in the manufacture of the same food product. By the enactment of the bill, the protest contends that the dairy business would be built up at the expense of the live stock industry.

DEFEAT OF BOERS NEAR VENTERSBURG

London, Jan. 18.—Lord Kitchener reports a force of eight hundred Boers routed west of Ventersburg. The British had but few casualties. He also reports concerning the fight between Colville and a thousand Boers near Standerton. British casualties are one killed and fifteen wounded. The Boers seem to have lost heavily.

The war office positively declines to issue further permits for newspaper correspondents in South Africa.

Four Children Cremated.

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 18.—The home of Benjamin Miller, a farmer living near Middlebury was burned this morning. Four children asleep in the second story were cremated.

Restricting Marriages.

The Tri-State Medical association of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia at its recent session in Chattanooga took steps to secure medical legislation in those states for the purpose of regulating or prohibiting the marriage of habitual criminals, persons afflicted with incurable disease, drunkards and victims of harmful drugs.

CAPE COLONY NOW ON MILITARY RULE

MARTIAL LAW EXTENDED ALL OVER SOUTH AFRICA.

People Must Give Up Their Arms—
Methuen's Column Has Commenced
Operations in the Southwestern
Transvaal—The Boer Force Driven Back by Colville's Men.

Cape Town, Jan. 18.—An extraordinary gazette just issued contains a proclamation placing the whole of the Cape Colony under martial law, with the exception of Cape Town, Wynberg, Simon's Town, Port Elizabeth, East London districts and the territories of the Transkei, Iembuland, Griqualand and East Pondoland. The gazette also states that the peace-preserving act will be enforced in the Cape Colony, Wynberg and Simon's Town districts. Under this act all the civil population will be called upon to deliver up their arms. Lord Methuen's column has left Vryburg and commenced operations in the southwestern Transvaal. It is understood that the operations of this column will be extended to the southeastern part of Bechuanaland. Vryburg is strongly defended by redoubts and wire entanglements.

Boers Suffer Heavy Loss.

London, Jan. 18.—Gen. Kitchener telegraphing from Pretoria says the concentration of 3,000 Boers at Carolina (Transvaal) is reported. He adds that Colville's mobile column was engaged near Van Toudeshoek. The Boers were driven off with heavy loss. Three hundred Boers entered Aberdeen, looted the stores and retired on the arrival of a hundred British infantry.

ERIE IS ABSORBED BY BELL COMPANY

Has Passed Into the Hands and Control of the Big Telephone Combine in Boston.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 18.—The Erie Telegraph and Telephone company practically passed into the control of the Bell Telephone company today when at a special meeting of the Erie directors the new management, representing the company's affairs, took charge of the company's affairs. Chas. J. Glidden resigned as president and Charles A. Grant as treasurer and the directors elected the following officers:

Executive committee, Philip Dexter, chairman; William Endicott, Jr., Reginald Foster, Francis R. Hart and W. J. Latta. Walter Abbott was elected treasurer and ex-treasurer Grant was retained as auditor.

President Grant in his letter of resignation stated he turned over a plant operating in eight states nearly 145,000 telephone stations and nearly 250,000 miles of wire a property upon which $21,000,000 had been spent in five years.

Under an agreement with the Old Colony Trust Company the Erie agrees to keep the Cleveland, Northwestern and Southern companies absolutely free from debt and they will do nothing in the management of the subsidiary companies to in any way impair the value of their stocks.

He stated that the gross earnings of the Erie system were $3,600,000 in 1899 and $5,000,000 in 1900 and they promised to exceed $6,500,000 this year.

Were Badly Burned.

The dead are Peter Thompson, engineer; W. C. Oliver, brakeman; unknown brakeman and two tramps. Several cars loaded with explosives blew up and twelve were burned.

GRANT A PENSION TO DR. J. B. WHITING

House of Congress Committee Reports Favorably on a Bill Appropriating
$50 Per Month.

A dispatch from Washington states that the house committee on pensions authorized a favorable report upon the bill to grant a pension of $50 per month to Dr. J. B. Whiting of Jamesville. Dr. Whiting was a major and surgeon in the Thirty-third Wisconsin regiment during the civil war. He has never applied for a pension and is advanced in years and his friends have sought to secure this recognition of his services. The bill has already passed the senate, and a special effort will be made to get it through the house.

Restricting Marriages.

The Tri-State Medical association of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia at its recent session in Chattanooga took steps to secure medical legislation in those states for the purpose of regulating or prohibiting the marriage of habitual criminals, persons afflicted with incurable disease, drunkards and victims of harmful drugs.

STATE MILITIA HAS ARRIVED AT CORBIN

COMPANY OF MEN WITH GATLING GUNS ON THE SCENE.

Bloody Riot Among Opposing Factions in the Mountain Districts of Kentucky—The Feud is Owing to the Reciprocal Love of a Young Man and Woman.

Corbin, Ky., Jan. 18.—Seventy-five members of the Second regiment with gatling guns arrived here this morning. Shortly after their arrival John, James and Bob Shotwell, leaders of one of the forces engaged in the feud surrendered.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—Gov. Beckham this morning ordered a company of troops from Lexington to Corbin. Fear of further rioting is the cause.

Corbin, Ky., Jan. 18.—As a result of the riot here Wednesday night two persons were killed, one mortally wounded, three or four others wounded. Miss Susan Cox, an innocent bystander was killed by the stray bullets and Sultan Faris was killed by the explosion. The wounded are James Shotwell fatally; Hadley Bradley, Tracy Cooper and an unknown travelling salesman.

At noon yesterday James Shotwell was shot and mortally wounded by Rollie White, who had become angered with Shotwell on being refused to longer keep company with Shotwell's daughter. White was barricaded with his friends and the deputy sheriff in a store and the friends of Shotwell blew it up with dynamite.

Reports were received last night of armed men massing outside of the town, but up to midnight no outbreak of any character had occurred. A special with troops is due here today.

No attempt was made to clear the debris of the White building wrecked by dynamite. Every one kept within doors fearing further trouble between the Shotwells and Whites before the troops arrived. The Shotwells occupy the hills near the town while the White forces are mostly in Corbin. All the residences are barricaded.

RAPID GROWTH OF CITIES IN GERMANY

Astonishing Figures from a Recent Census—Berlin Has Grown Faster Than Chicago.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Capt. Frank Mason, our consul-general to Germany, who, being an old newspaper man, is always sending interesting dispatches to the department, has scooped the newspapers by giving the results of the December census, which is taken in Germany every five years. The figures will be a great surprise particularly the increase of population of some of the oldest cities.

Nuremberg, for example, which is one of the oldest cities in Europe, is booming faster than Minneapolis or Kansas City, and has increased in population more than 60 per cent. during the last five years, while the old town of Posen has almost kept pace with it. Frankfort, Stettin, Charlottenburg, Halle, Dortmund and Mannheim have also developed rapidly. Stettin has nearly doubled in population during the last ten years, while Mannheim and Charlottenburg have increased 43 per cent. in five years.

But the increase in Berlin is the most remarkable. During the last thirty years the population has increased from $25,389 to 1,884,345 within the city limits and, including its immediate suburbs, to more than 2,500,000 souls. During the last ten years it has grown faster than Chicago. This increase is due to the development of her manufacturing industries.

THE NEGRO PROBLEM IN THE SOUTH FACE GREATEST MISTAKE OF ALL

A. B. Lee of Milton, Takes Some Exceptions to a Recent Twilight Club Speech, and Comments Thereon by the Gazette.

Editor Gazette:—The Weekly Gazette of Jan. 12th prints editorially approving comments on a speech delivered before the Twilight Club on suffrage in the south; some thoughts suggested by which I submit respectfully, hoping they will help your readers to see that, like all questions, this one has two sides.

To begin, let me express my hearty acquiescence in your suggestion that a law be enacted by congress making educational qualification a condition of suffrage. But the politician will not have it, because any law applying in all parts of the country on all votes would defeat them and bring all their schemes to naught.

A blind man can see that. Besides in passing such a law how can congress put more virtue or force in it than is contained in the constitution we are living under today? That same constitution, which you tell us that the president of the United States doubts the wisdom of enforcing. By the way, will you kindly tell us when and where the president has so expressed himself? It is important that the people should understand his position on this question, for I believe that a large (and thinking people) majority of the people think that all citizens should bear equal allegiance to and enjoy equal protection of the law.

I agree with you that we need cold facts, not assertions, to enable us to understand and draw conclusions on this southern problem, so-called and that we approach its consideration with charity, not for one side only, but for both sides or parties. Does this gentleman approach the question in that spirit? I think not, for after roundly scoring these people for their total unfitness for self-government he asserts that the problem is a racial and not a political one, and yet he will tell you himself that these people who are so full of race antagonism are living in such close relations that a majority of the whites eat and drink victuals prepared and served by the blacks. Does not that look like racial hate and distrust?

The simple truth is that the southern politician is far and away ahead of his confrere in the north, is in short, past grand master of arts political. His tracks are plain to all who take the trouble to investigate on the spot. He started out by stirring up

MILTON SMALL POX STORIES DENIED

NO EFFORTS BEING MADE TO SUPPRESS THE FACTS.

All Precautions to Prevent the Spread of the Disease Have Been Taken by Order of the Board of Health—Milton Social and Personal News and Notes.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY
W. W. CLARK, Manager.
Milton, Wis., Jan. 18, 1901.

The statement in Wednesday's daily that there are two new cases of small-pox here and that two persons having the disease had escaped from confinement, is untrue. Neither is there a determined effort being made by the people of Milton to suppress the facts about the disease, although there are many persons who do not think it is small-pox. On the contrary, the state board of health was notified and under their direction the disease was quarantined and since that time no person who had the disease has been allowed to leave the premises, or members of their families.

There have been no new cases since the quarantine was established and all reports to the contrary are false. The state board of health is fully advised of the condition of things here by Health Officer Burdick, and all precautions to prevent the spread of the disease, ordered by the board have been taken. The citizens of Milton do not object to the truth of the matter being fully stated, and it has been by the writer, but they do object to the statements appearing in the Gazette that are absolute falsehoods and for the publication of which there can be no reasonable excuse, as the facts can be secured any hour, and, if necessary, supplemented by affidavits from our best citizens.

SHARP DEFENSE OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Editor Gazette—Will you allow me space in your columns for a few words in relation to an article appearing in the issue of Jan. 4th, 1901, entitled "Restlessness and Fads?"

The writer of the article, in classing Christian Science with Dowism, faith cure, fanaticism, or regarding it in the light of a fad, could only have written thus through lack of having informed himself as to what Christian Science really is.

A fad according to the common acceptance of the word, is a passing fancy, a thought that holds sway for a day, but has no depth or seriousness and is soon abandoned for some newer amusement. In contradistinction to this, Christian Science has been before the public for some thirty years, and during this time has been subjected to the severest tests and criticism to which it is possible to subject any system, and so far from losing its hold on the thought and interest of the people, it has not only had a steady, but an absolutely phenomenal growth.

According to statistics its growth is greater than that of any other religious movement known, in the same length of time. Can that be called a fad, which is accomplishing the good that is being acknowledged on all sides as the result of the work done through the understanding of Christian Science? The Scripture teaching is, "by their fruits ye shall know them."

Then, judged by its fruits—which are not only healing the sick, but saving the sinner and reclaiming the drunkard, bringing back the infidel to a knowledge of his sonship in God,—Christian Science is proven to be not only not a fad, but, being founded on Divine truth, is as eternal as God, and cannot be "eclipsed by the Zion or any other movement." Christian Science is established not only on the "faith of the fathers," but on the teaching of Jesus and his apostles, and because of this foundation it insures the stability that the world needs.

The men and women in the ranks of the Christian Scientists are found to be an intelligent, peaceable, law-abiding people, whose life work is to uplift humanity, heal the sick, and do good to all mankind, as they have opportunity.

The restlessness referred to in your article is caused by the lack of that stability and confidence in Omnipotent Good, which is the abiding consciousness of the Christian Scientist, whose faith will be found counteracting this restlessness, controlling and checking its consequences. As expressed in the thought of the poet, "around our restlessness His rest."

This is the rest into which the Christian Scientist is entering, and all who seek entrance therein shall find it.

Very truly yours,

FRANCIS G. UNDERWOOD.

ALEX. BUCHHOLZ,

OUR TURKISH CLAIM.

HOW WILY ABDUL HAMID HAS AGREED TO PAY UP.

He Wishes to Avoid the Appearance of Settlement—Cause of Minister Strand's Resignation—Our New Minister to the Sultan a Pennsylvanian.

Uncle Sam has had many difficult problems to solve in his comparatively short career, but it must be admitted that getting Sultan Abdul Hamid to pay the missionary indemnity claims against him is one of the most perplexing. The only possible solution, of course, would be the payment of the claims by the Turk, but he refused to do in cash, preferring to put us off with high sounding promises, which are cheaper. Now, however, the report has come that the sultan is really about to pay up, although in an indirect manner. Other nations have claims against Turkey, and the sultan does not wish to gain the reputation of liquidating his debts.

Abdul Hamid has found a highly ingenious manner of paying our just claim and still "saving his face." He has ordered from the Cramps of Philadelphia a new cruiser for his navy. He evidently likes our ships, since his decision to order one was no doubt hastened by the timely and significant appearance of one of our newest battleships at Smyrna. In the purchase price of the new boat contracted for is included, above the market price of cruisers, a sum of approximately $100,000, about the amount of our claim. When the Cramps receive this, they are to turn it over to the claimants, who will thereupon notify our government. Abdul Hamid thus saves trouble with Uncle Sam, the claimants are satisfied, other debtors presumably staved off with a decimal that our claim has been paid, and everybody is happy.

One claim against Turkey is a private one—that is, it is for the destroyed property of private American citizens engaged in missionary work in the sultan's dominions. It arises out of the Armenian massacres of 1895 and is thus more than five years old. The damaged property consisted of college buildings situated at Karput and Marash, in Asiatic Turkey. To these institutions Abdul Hamid had promised his protection by treaty made more than ten years previously. They were partly destroyed during the massacres, and Uncle Sam promptly presented the claims of his citizens for indemnity. The Turkish government admitted the justice of our claims and repeatedly promised to pay them, but didn't.

Our new minister to Turkey, appointed to succeed Mr. Straus, is John G. A. Leishman of Pennsylvania. Mr. Straus' resignation was caused, it is said, by this matter of the claims. Mr. Leishman has been our minister to Switzerland and goes directly from Bern to Constantinople. He is a native of Alleghany, Pa., and was raised in the Protestant Orphan asylum there. Early in life he entered the steel business, in which he achieved great success, rising to the presidency of the Carnegie Steel Company. Mr. Leishman held that position until March 31, 1897, when he retired. He is very wealthy and has gained an enviable reputation as a host.

Bosschieter Defendants Not Likely to Have Long to Wait.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 18.—The Bosschieter case nears an end. The summing up is now in progress. McAlister, Death and Campbell were each on the stand. Their testimony was on the line that they were acting on a generous impulse when they took the girl out of the saloon to the hack. They claimed that she was "jolly drunk" for a time in the back room of Saal's saloon; said she was joking and laughing after the first drink; that she became "dopey" after taking the absinthe, and then became dead drunk. They had thought a drive in the fresh air would do her good, and had taken her across the river out into the country. The mistreatment was denied. They had lifted the girl out of the hack because she was sick and they had conducted themselves like humanitarians in their efforts to bring her back to her senses. They had taken her to the brook to obtain water. They would have taken her home after she was dead, but when they reached the neighborhood they saw persons about.

They were frightened at "the dead girl" and did not want to get mixed up in the scandal. They maintained that they had no evil intentions against the girl. The meeting in the saloon was unintentional, so far as McAlister was concerned, and he had drawn his friend Kerr into the case unwittingly. Campbell became mixed up in it because Death did not want to be seen in the street with the girl lest some one tell his wife. The hack, it would appear from the statements made by the prisoners, was not intended for the party at first, but for McAlister, Kerr and the two young women, whose names McAlister refused to divulge with. Their nightly bowling is becoming decidedly obnoxious and should be stopped. The names of these same youths, known to the writer, might surprise some parents.

FOOTVILLE.

Footville, Jan. 18.—A very sad and sudden death occurred in this little village last Tuesday night. While returning from church in company with friends, Miss Nora Smith was taken very suddenly ill. Mrs. Frank Wells, by whom Miss Smith was employed, persuaded her to rest a few moments at Frank Fox's restaurant. They then proceeded toward Mrs. Wells' home, but when in the vicinity of the depot Miss Smith said she could go no further and in a moment more sank unconscious to the sidewalk. Help was soon brought and Dr. Lacey did everything possible, but the life was gone.

Miss Smith had but recently come from her home in West Lima. Her sister, Miss Bertha Smith, teaches the "Bob" district school.

Rev. and Mrs. Bloom accompanied the stricken sister with the body to West Lima.

It is understood that Miss Nora Smith, whose sudden death shocked this village on Tuesday night, was frightened by some carousing hoodlums just a few moments previous. Whether this had anything to do with the results or not, those same disorderly youths should be dealt with. Their nightly bowling is becoming decidedly obnoxious and should be stopped. The names of these same youths, known to the writer, might surprise some parents.

Several street lamps are being put into position. Good. Now let us have some more. Let the good citizens show their willingness to advance the interests of our village. Some people are so indifferent or close-fisted that they refuse to repair sidewalks or aid in street lighting, but this is not true of the progressive man. We believe Footville is waking up to her needs.

Mrs. Gehaggen suffered a very painful and possibly serious accident last Monday. The cause was a heavy fall upon ice and the result was a broken hip and three broken ribs. Mrs. Gehaggen is 79 years of age but is standing the ordeal well.

ALLIANCE FORMED

Mr. Smith, One of Our Leading Druggists,

MAKES ARRANGEMENTS WITH A LARGE BOSTON HOUSE.

Their Object is to Produce a Valuable Remedy, in a Form That Can be Easily Taken, but Heretofore Impractical--From Now On this New Preparation of An Old Medicine Will Become An Indispensable Auxiliary to the medical Profession.

Enterprise is one of the virtues of druggist Smith of Smith's pharmacy. Often has he demonstrated his ability to not only keep pace with, but to keep ahead of the times. Many times have the people of our city had occasion to be proud of the way this prominent druggist has shown himself to be among the foremost in the country in adopting the latest scientific and chemical discoveries.

Even in this age of progress, the advance in pharmaceutical development has been at times almost of a sensational nature. The druggist or chemist who has not had push and enterprise has soon become a back number, and can be found today running a small store, the appearance of which, devoid of any signs of modernism, is familiar to all.

It has always been Mr. Smith's ambition to connect himself with some discovery that would not only be a source of profit to himself, but the means of accomplishing good to others. With this end in view it is not strange that Mr. Smith in his profession, should have been led to think seriously concerning the use of cod liver oil. He, like hundreds of other druggists, has sold vast quantities of this valuable, but nauseating remedy.

Into his ear has been poured many a tale of woe, by sufferers who would beg him to advise some way they might take the medicine described for them, and many attempts have been made in the past to alleviate a patient to take his remedy, knowing well that could they succeed in doing so, he would be instrumental in restoring health—and in many cases even in saving life.

He was obliged to give up attaining the desired end, of disguising the taste of this obnoxious, greasy medicine, as many others have had to before him. He found it was not a very difficult matter to fool the palate, but he could not fool the patient's stomach. Even when the oil had been made tasteless by being

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. P. H. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., writes: "Having been a terrible sufferer from Catarrh, and being now sound and well, the question often put to me is,

"What cured you?" In answer I feel it my duty to say that Swift's Specific is the medicine. I am such a true believer in the efficacy of Swift's Specific that I can honestly and conscientiously recommend it to many, and am happy to say that those whom I have induced to use it can bear me out in the statement that it will cure any case of Catarrh if taken according to directions."

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines and tonics.

If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians about your case.

COLLEGE HAZING.

An interesting examination is now going on at the military academy at West Point, conducted by a congressional committee, for the purpose of determining who is responsible for the death of Cadet Sheridan. It will be remembered that Mr. Sheridan died recently, as the result, so his friends claim, of hazing. Congressman Driggs, of Brooklyn, in conducting the examination, said to the boys that the upper classmen were brutal cowards, and that President McKinley had said that unless hazing could be stopped, the academy had better be closed.

While it is perfectly natural for boys to be boys, and to enjoy innocent sport at the expense of cadets and freshmen, it is generally conceded that not only at West Point, but in many other colleges, this question of hazing is becoming a very serious one, demanding more attention and more rigid discipline than college officials seem able to give it. The step between a gentleman and a hoodlum is an easy step to take on a college playground, and it seems to be about as popular as a quickstep or two-step in the ball room. One hoodlum in society don't eat much of a figure, but a class of hoodlums in a college is a disgrace to the institution. Every act of hazing that partakes of cruelty, and produces suffering, is not only brutal and cowardly, but it is demoralizing to the participants, and deserves the most severe censure and criticism. Any young man or any class of young men, who so far forget themselves as to indulge in these practices with relish and enjoyment, lowers himself to just that extent in the scale of manhood.

The boy may argue that it don't cut any figure. That's the thinnest kind of an argument. Any act that deadens sensibilities and causes the pulse to quicken with animation at the suffering of a brother man is harmful in the extreme. If there are any men in this world that are absolutely useless they are found in the class which delights in suffering, and who are destitute of human sympathy. College hazing encourages the development of these brutal traits of character, and unless the practice can be regulated or entirely abolished, the shops of learning where they are practiced had better be closed indefinitely.

The average college graduate, in his best estate, goes into life at anywhere from twenty-one to twenty-five years of age, with a one-sided, top-heavy education. Free from the influences of home, and free in almost every other sense of the word, breathing an atmosphere that is abnormal, surrounded with companions that are not always helpful, with a head full of theories, he steps out into life, expecting to startle people by his profound presence, but soon discovers that the common people are not easily startled. If he enters professional life he finds that time and ability are both necessary to success. In commercial life, he finds every avenue crowded with young men who have years the start of him in practical knowledge and experience. If satisfied with a salaried position for a life work he evidences a lack of ambition not creditable to the college that equipped him. He has no right to be handicapped by the memory of either the victim or the victor in hazing escapades that at the best are disgraceful and demoralizing.

The college graduate, if a gentleman, is as good as any other man who is a gentleman, and no better. He belongs to a limited class, representing less than one per cent of the population. The world has a right to expect something of him because of his early advantages.

There will be less disappointment when hazing and a few other popular fads are eliminated from his preparatory course.

THE ANTI-PASS LAW.

The Wisconsin legislature is just now enjoying a test of the anti-pass law, one of the reform measures of the last session, and about as foolish as any measure ever placed upon the statute books. A law that says to a man "You are not worthy of confidence and you know it, therefore, the state proposes to protect you against Yourself." But the law is with us, and is popular because it is supposed to be a slap at corporations. It was passed under protest at the close of a session, and will remain because neither party possesses the courage to repeal it.

What the present session should do is to pass a law increasing the pay of legislators to $1,000 for the session, so that every member could afford to go home two or three times a month and rub up against his constituency. While the work of the legislature is largely done in committee rooms and plenty of time is needed to investigate and formulate measures, it is very important that individual members should also be well informed before casting a deciding vote. Every man is supposed to represent the state at large, and the man who represents it the best, is the man who analyzes public sentiment the best in his own bailiwick.

It is an easy task to rush legislation, surrounded by the abnormal atmosphere of either a state or national capitol. But it is more difficult to intelligently and wisely represent the people, and that is the prime object of legislation. The state can afford to spend the money and the law makers can afford to spend the time to have measures thoroughly digested before adopting or rejecting them. Some of the questions to be considered at the present session are of vital importance to the welfare of the state. Time to consider them thoroughly will be well spent, and a trip home occasionally will do the average member no harm, even if it does cost a little money.

The man with a bifurcated nomenclature will have to yank at his boot straps a little stronger, before he is big enough to convince 70,000,000 people that anything which helped to rid this country of slavery "was a stupendous mistake."

The promoters of the Grout bill do not care to prevent fraud or to punish it. They want to destroy or handicap the manufacture of a perfectly wholesome article of food.

The trouble with the Boers is that they are perfectly willing to be killed in their cause of freedom; and when a man is in that state of mind he never knows when he is whipped.

Mr. Harrison's opinion may be due to the mental attitude of all ex-members towards their successors; especially if their successors are particularly successful.

Should the Christian religion ignore Christian principles in its attitude toward one fourth of the human race, because it happens to be born inside a yellow, red or black skin?

Unlawful Sale of Liquor.

District Attorney W. A. Jackson conducted an examination in the municipal court this morning in the case of the state of Wisconsin vs. James Riley of Footville to see whether or not a warrant should be issued for the arrest of James Riley for giving liquor to a man named Torpy, who is on the black list of the town. Mrs. Torpy and her fifteen year old daughter were sworn, as was K. N. Grunbaum, chairman of the town board of Spring Valley. They testified that on different occasions Riley had been to Torpy's home and had given him liquor. The last time was on Christmas day when Riley spent the most of the day with Torpy and gave him numerous drinks of liquor. Since that time Torpy has been at work in the tobacco warehouse in Footville and has kept sober.

After taking the evidence under consideration Judge Fifield issued a warrant for Riley's arrest and placed it in the hands of an officer for service.

CANNING FACTORY AN ASSURED THING

PROMOTERS JUST AS ANXIOUS AS EVER TO COME HERE.

They Have Been Unable to Come Here
But They are Busy Contracting For Machinery and Appliances to be Used in the Factory—Early Action Expected.

A great many people of the city are under the impression that the city has seen the last of the canning factory, but such is not the case. The leaders in the movement to bring the industry to the city are in constant communication with the promoters and report that the movement is as much alive today as at any time since it was started.

The gentlemen that visited this city in the interests of the factory have both been sick with the grip and it has been impossible for either of them to come here. While they have not been able to visit the city to close up the deal, they have not been idle and have been in constant communication with the different firms that manufacture the machinery necessary to operate their plant, to see if they will agree to make the machines and boilers and deliver them in time for the season's work.

They do not wish to go on and close up the deal and make contracts for acreage if they could not be in shape to take care of the produce when it is delivered to them. They would be held for any contract that they might sign for produce, and would be obliged to receive it and pay for it whether they could use it or not.

They stated in a letter recently received in this city that as soon as definite answers to their letters to the machinery manufacturers were received they would come here and settle the matter.

There is no doubt but that the factory would be a good thing for the city and those most interested in the matter are using every effort to keep the matter alive and secure the plant. The whole matter now rests with the gentlemen who are to put in the works and they are ready to close up the deal as soon as they know definitely about the machinery.

The delay in closing up the deal has caused considerable talk and comment among those who subscribed to the bonus but they can feel assured that the matter will be settled in a few days.

IS AN ANCIENT TRICK

Young Lady's Address Found Written on Blank Leaf in New Order Book.

The Grubb Produce company of this city have just received from a Fremont, O., firm a large shipment of order books. On one is written a brief message by a Miss Alice Campbell—that is the name is there. Instantly the imagination of all the unmarried young men in the city is fired, and visions of the gauziest and most alluring type weave themselves before their mental vision.

It is quite possible that there is a Miss Alice Campbell—such a gentle and confiding name—but far more likely the name was written in an assumed feminine hand by some rascal in the bindery who takes an unwholly delight in keeping tab on the fool letters sent to the address by the young men from the town in which this particular lot of books happens to be sold.

Two Handsome and Valuable Gifts.

A recent highly valued gift to Trinity church is a beautiful lace super frontal, the offering of Miss Minnie Smith, the result of months of devoted labor. This piece of needle work could not be duplicated at Lamb's church furnishing house for $200.

Another handsome gift is an altar cloth of fine linen, with a beautiful design and five crosses worked upon it. This is the work of Miss Ida Fox and is given by her and her sister Mary.

Annie Collins Given a Verdict.

Annie Collins was given a verdict of $2,800 in the Dane county circuit court yesterday. This is the third trial of the case, Miss Collins being successful in securing a verdict each time. The first trial resulted in a verdict of $1,500 for the plaintiff. This verdict was reversed by the supreme court, and the case sent back for a new trial. At the second trial a verdict of $2,500 was given; this was reduced by the circuit judge to $1,700. The case was appealed to the supreme court and sent back to the circuit court for a new trial. The case has been on trial since Monday, and was given to the jury yesterday afternoon, and at 5:30 they returned a verdict of $2,800 for the plaintiff. City Attorney Burpee asked the court to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial. The court will listen to arguments after he has disposed of his jury calendar.

Several of the jurors in the case were in favor of giving the plaintiff the full amount asked for in the complaint; and held out for over an hour for a verdict of $5,000.

NEW CHRISTIAN SCIENCE HALL

Warm and Well Lighted Room in the Phoebe Block, Equipped and Free from Debt.

The local Christian Science society has recently opened a new hall in the Phoebe block—the block in which the public library is located—and has furnished it themselves. The room is on the third floor and is 40 x 50 feet and well lighted with windows looking down on Milwaukee street. They have put in fifty chapel chairs with hat rack and book rack, a piano owned by the society, two reading desks, table and enough other furnishings to make an attractive assembly hall.

The room is heated by circulating hot water and is lighted by electric lights. Ferns in hanging baskets in the windows give a homelike look to the room and as it is always warm, and gets all of the afternoon sun, it is a comfortable place to drop into during the two hours daily that it is open as a reading room and for the sale of Christian Science literature.

The society was incorporated about four years ago although ten years or more religious meetings have been held. Its business is conducted by a board of directors, board of trustees, clerk and treasurer; all elective offices. There are also two readers: Mrs. Cora J. Persels, first; and Mrs. Helen Sherer, second.

Regular services are held each Sunday morning at 10:30 followed by Sunday school, with a mid-week meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening. The local society is a branch of the Boston society which boasts a membership of 12,000. Its growth in Janesville has been steady and healthy and now that there is a church home to meet in, on which rests not a dollar of debt except the current expenses, the members feel that they have cause for congratulation.

Christian Science has called for no martyrs, has no established propaganda and antagonizes no existing sect. All who come are made welcome, but no one goes out seeking proselytes. Expenses are met by voluntary contribution. Begging or urging are not recognized by them as legitimate methods of work. A very great deal may be said in favor of its external methods, and those who have looked at it externally claim to have been richly repaid.

A WEDDING AT THE LINE CITY

Hutchison-Jenkins Nuptials Took Place

Last Wednesday Evening.

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 18.—The marriage of Mr. Andrew C. Hutchison and Miss Laura Frances Jenkins, daughter of Mrs. Frances M. Jenkins, was the very pleasant matrimonial event of Wednesday evening. Invited relatives and friends to the number of about eighty assembled at the residence of Mr. George B. Ingersoll, brother-in-law of the bride, which was beautifully decorated with white carnations and evergreens and palms, where at eight o'clock the marriage vows were taken.

Promptly at the appointed hour, the bridal pair, preceded by the Little Flower girl, Sallie Ingersoll, and heralded by the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Katherine Walker, entered the parlor, where in an impressive manner, Rev. C. D. Merrill performed the wedding ceremony. After congratulations and refreshments, the newly married couple received their young friends in their own house on Broad street, which had been previously prepared by them. The bride is one of the fair and lovely daughters of whom Beloit justly boasts so many, and has been a valued teacher in our public schools for two years or more. Mr. Hutchison is numbered among Beloit's own sons, having been born and reared here until a few years ago when he removed to Chicago with his parents, but returned to Beloit a year or more ago and resumed his residence here, and began the practice of dentistry, having graduated after a full course at the Chicago Dental College.

MARVIN KUHNS IS SHOT.

The Escaped Desperado Is Now in Jail.

HOT FIGHT WITH OFFICERS.

Captured with His Brother John After Desperate Fight with Revolvers in Room at Green Hill, Ind.—Two of the Captors Wounded.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 18.—Marvin Kuhns, the escaped convict who for weeks has terrorized northern Indiana and defied the officers of this state and Ohio, is in jail in this county, where he made such a desperate fight for life and liberty Dec. 10. Kuhns and his brother John, who was discharged from the Columbus (O.) prison shortly after Marvin escaped on Thanksgiving day, were arrested last night at Green Hill, a village thirty-five miles south of here, after a desperate pistol fight with officers. Before the outlaw was overpowered he had shot two men and himself had been wounded. The injured are: Marvin Kuhns, shot in head; not serious. E. Volt, resident of Otterbein, Ind., shot in back; not serious. Lewis Hawkins, Otterbein, shot in arm.

Were Wanted For Horse Stealing.

After Kuhns escaped from Logansport officers in December by fighting off four policemen and a posse he went to his home near Albion. Officers feared to molest him. Made bold by immunity, the Kuhns boys stole a team from a Plymouth farmer Sunday night and started south. It was not known that the theft had been committed by the Kuhns boys, but ex-Sheriff J. W. Marshall of Plymouth, a veteran thief-catcher, suspected the identity of the thieves and started on the trail. He traced the team to Lafayette and telephoned neighboring villages, locating the men at Green Hill. They had gone to a boarding house for the night, and a posse of Otterbein citizens, composed of E. Volt, Elmer Laird, Edward O'Leary, Elmer Switzer, Lewis Hawkins and Frank Moore, surrounded the house at midnight and rushed into the room where the Kuhns brothers and a companion were.

Battle in the Room; One Escapes.
Marvin Kuhns was awake and he seized a revolver from a chair at the bedside. Before he could fire Switzer shot him in the face and the posse closed in. One of the three persons fighting against arrest leaped from the second-story window and escaped, but the two Kuhns boys were overpowered after many shots had been exchanged. Marvin managed to shoot Volt in the back and Hawkins in the arm, but neither was fatally wounded.

The Kuhns brothers were brought to Logansport. Five hundred persons were at the station when the train arrived, but the prisoners were hustled into the patrol wagon and driven at a gallop to the jail, where the crowd increased to 1,000. There were no threats of violence.

Identified as Man Who Shot Dean.

Capt. Somers of the Pan-Handle and local police officers and citizens who were in the posse on the occasion of Kuhns' December fight positively identified him as the man who shot Policeman Dean. Dean was on duty Monday for the first time since he was shot, and he was one of the first to greet Marvin. The escaped convict was stripped and his description by the Bertillon system noted, which established his identity beyond doubt. He denies that he is Marvin Kuhns. The bullet from Switzer's revolver entered Kuhns' face below the right eye, and, passing back of the nose, lodged beneath the left eye. Despite his wound he calmly smoked a cigar and talked with the officers. He said if he had not been taken by surprise he would have "cleaned out the whole gang." The officials refuse to reveal the name of the man who escaped.

Seven years ago Marvin Kuhns and his gang terrorized eastern Indiana and western Ohio. Kuhns was arrested at that time on a public highway near Churubusco, Ind., after he had been shot in four places. Officer Tom Wilkinson of Fort Wayne was shot in that battle and seriously wounded.

Big Loss by Prairie Fire.

Huron, S. D., Jan. 18.—Reports from the prairie fire in the western part of this—Beale—county indicate the losses are heavy to farmers and stockmen. The wind is blowing fifty to sixty miles an hour. The citizens turned out and fought the flames away from Wolsey. A special train from this city was sent out with fire fighters, and they, with the help of those from Wolsey, extinguished the flames a few miles east of Wolsey. The burned area is from two to five miles wide and from ten to twelve miles long. In it are located many prosperous farmers and stockmen, some of whom lost all their hay and feed and also their barns and stock sheds.

ARMY BILL IS DISCUSSED.

Further Discussion in Senate on the Measure.

THE HOUSE ON POSTAL LAWS.

Simply a Revision of Existing Postal Laws is the Bill Under Consideration—Amendment to Increase Pay of Letter Carriers Meets Opposition.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Senator Quay took the oath and returned to his seat. Senator Mason was the first to congratulate him, after the ceremony, and many other republican senators again extended a hand of welcome.

Among the bills passed by the senate was one extending to Milwaukee, Wis., the privileges relating to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods. At 12:45 o'clock a motion to proceed to executive business was made by Mr. Foraker (rep., Ohio), but protests against the motion were made by Senators Pettigrew, Jones of Arkansas, and Butler, on the ground that some senators desired to speak on the army bill, and Mr. Foraker withdrew it. The bill to increase the efficiency of the army was then taken up, and Mr. Money (dem., Miss.) made an argument against it. Diverging into the subject of West Point, Mr. Money declared that the practice of hazing there must be stopped or the institution must be abolished. Mr. McComas (rep., Md.) spoke in favor of the army bill, which, however, he thought should be amended. Mr. Bate (dem., Tenn.), a member of the military committee, opposed the bill. He argued that, if the army were raised to 100,000 men, it would be impossible to reduce it afterward. The bill went over without action. At 5 o'clock the senate proceeded to executive business, adjourning five minutes later.

Dull Day in the House.
It was an exceedingly dull day in the house. The entire day was spent upon the bill to revise and codify the postal laws, which is to be the continuing order, not, however, to interfere with appropriate bills or conference reports, until disposed of. It is a bill of 221 pages, and is simply a revision of existing laws. Some disposition was manifested to inject into the measure some amendments to the present law in the interest of certain classes of mail employees, but such attempts were successfully resisted. Just before the house adjourned, when no quorum was present, William Alden Smith of Michigan offered an amendment to increase the pay of letter carriers of the first, second, third and fourth classes, respectively, to $1,200, $1,000, $800 and $600. The amendment was defeated on a rising vote, 19 to 33, but Mr. Smith made the point of no quorum and final action on the amendment went over. Ninety-three pages of the bill were completed.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

THE PROGRESSIVE HOUSE AND THE DILATORY SENATE.

The Most Deliberative Body on Earth Harassed by Filibusters. But Statesmanship Will Win—A Reckoning For Enemies of American Shipping.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Progress is the watchword in the house of representatives and delay is the byword in the senate of the congress of the United States. With the most commendable promptness the house is disposing of urgent and important measures. The new apportionment bill is the most notable measure passed in the house during the past week, and it is likely that the river and harbor improvement bill, carrying with it provision for an expenditure of close to $70,000,000, will be sent to the senate for its consideration before the week closes.

In the senate, meanwhile, the army reorganization bill has become the weary subject of daily discussion. It is as clear as noonday that a few senators who are entirely irresponsible about to retire to private life are the stumbling blocks to effective and necessary legislation on the part of the senate. There are outcroppings at times, too, of cabals, not entirely composed of the irresponsible, who do their work in a secret and cunning manner, almost defying detection. Not a little of the delay in the passage of important bills through the senate can now be traced to these powerful but carefully concealed cabals.

The senate has reached a stage where the control of legislation is vested in the hands of a few, who are able to say what legislation shall pass by being able to say what legislation shall not pass. In this indirect but none the less effective manner the control of affairs has been absorbed by a few powerful men—men whose names seldom appear in print, men who rarely engage in debate, men of the least prominence, but of the greatest influence in "the most deliberative body on earth." This sort of thing has been tolerated for a long time, but there are many signs of a determination on the part of the growing and restive majority to put an end to an intolerable senatorial oligarchy.

It so happens for the moment that the filibusters in the open are discredited and uninfluential men in the senate—men who for petty spite or for even less worthy motives are seeking to prevent the enactment of needed legislation in a reasonable and businesslike manner. Things will be so crowded at the end of the session that it is more than likely that a number of measures will be pushed through that would never be placed upon the statutes but for the hurry and disregard of consequences so much in evidence in the closing days of a congressional session. And it is because this is so, it is because these poor, weak things are willing to show their hands in the open, that it is unnecessary for those more powerful senators whose purposes the filibusters are serving to even lift a finger or do a thing.

How the appropriation bills are to be properly discussed and passed is now becoming a problem. The passage of the army reorganization bill is assured, there is much of doubt concerning the apportionment bill, and the Nicaragua canal bill seems to have fallen by the wayside—it has, for the time being at least, been side tracked. The shipping bill seems to have more strength than any measure not an appropriation bill, and its active friends seem confident of its passage. It is a question, they say, whether the interests of the American people or of foreign shipowners shall prevail and be considered in the congress of the United States. If the bill is defeated and if our people are compelled as a consequence to go on indefinitely paying $175,000,000 a year to foreign ship owners in ocean freight rates that are steadily growing higher, there will be a reckoning between the people and their representatives one of these days that the latter will long remember.

The notion that the great bulk of the people are willing or disposed to master the intricacies of the shipping bill, or of a tariff bill, or of a river and harbor bill, or of any great measure is ridiculous. The people cannot devote the time to this sort of thing; they send men to congress to do that for them, depending upon their ability to enact honest and effective laws. When a few men in congress come forward, therefore, and put forth as an excuse for their withholding their support of any great public measure that it does not precisely suit them, and yet they offer nothing to take its place, and by their action prevent the enactment of needed legislation, they stamp themselves as incompetent or as impracticable.

This applies to the shipping bill and to any other great measure. The one named has passed through every stage of legislative consideration except that of debate in both branches, and even as to the latter the senate has in part thrashed out some of the provisions of the bill, sufficient in themselves for anybody who chooses to make up his mind whether the great principles of the bill are worthy of his support or not. Matters of detail, if incorrect in operation, may be easily corrected. The principle should be, either established or rejected, and this is precisely what the people are expecting at the hands of their representatives in congress.

J. B. ACRES.

HAZED INTO CONVULSIONS.

Cadet So Testifies as to Young MacArthur.

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 18.—The congressional committee examined three witnesses during the day. They were Cadets Mahaffey, Dockery and Pogram. When the committee met at the military academy, Congressman Wanger referred to the reports of the hazing incident and said that army officers did not take part in the hazing. Cadet Birchie O. Mahaffey of Texas, a classmate of former Cadet Booz, was sworn. He admitted that the purpose of calling out a fourth-class man was to have him whipped. He had never heard of a fourth-class man winning in a fist fight with a higher class man. Cadet Albert B. Dockery of Missouri acknowledged that he had "exercised" young MacArthur, who was with five or six other fourth-class men. He was asked:

Q.—"What was the reason for hazing MacArthur?" A.—"For not bracing hard enough," replied Dockery.

Q.—"You are satisfied you hazed Mr. MacArthur and that he was sick, in fact, had convulsions after it?" A.—"Yes."

Q.—"Did you think it was cruel?" A.—"Yes, sir."

"Well, young man, for your information I will tell you that I think it was atrocious, base, detestable, disgraceful, dishonorable, disreputable, heinous, ignominious, ill-formed, nefarious, odious, outrageous, scandalous, shameful, shameless, villainous and wicked," said Mr. Driggs.

"Instead of exercising this young man to such a degree, why did you not give him a chance to fight?" asked Gen. Dick. A.—"He could have fought instead if he had chosen to do so."

Q.—"Then you and the others who took part in the hazing of MacArthur were afraid to report his serious condition, fearing that by doing so the facts would become known to the authorities and you would be dismissed from the military academy?" A.—"Yes, sir."

Walcott Loses to Kid Carter.

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 18.—Joe Walcott had his hands full with "Kid" Carter before the Empire Athletic club at the Coliseum. Each weighed 160 pounds, and they were to go twenty rounds. Walcott put up a stiff fight and was the favorite. In the first three rounds, however, he got some bad blows and in the tenth followed the advice of his backers to go in for solid business. The "Kid" was always ready for Walcott, and sentiment was beginning to change, when in the nineteenth round Carter got the decision on a foul. Walcott had been warned several times for holding.

Fear Iowa Boy Is Stolen.

Grinnell, Ia., Jan. 18.—Warren Munsell, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Munsell, has been missing from Jefferson since last Tuesday evening and circumstances point conclusively to an abduction. When last seen, young Munsell was in company of an unknown youth. The boy is of medium size and wore a brown checked coat. The stranger was almost a man in appearance and may have been older than he looked. The boy's parents are wealthy.

On the Track of Fat Crowe.

Selinsgrove, Pa., Jan. 18.—Pat Crowe, the alleged abductor of the Cudahy boy at Omaha, is believed to be in the vicinity of Sunbury, Pa. Although Crowe cannot be precisely located as yet, it is said a private detective of Chicago, who has been in this vicinity for some days, has learned that the supposed kidnaper is traveling back and forth from Nanticoke to Harrisburg, stopping at Sunbury on the way.

Omega Oil

FOR CHILDREN—If your little boy or girl comes home from school or play with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Omega Oil. There isn't a bit of danger in using it freely, for there is no turpentine or ammonia in it. A whole barrelful of it would not burn or blister the tenderest skin. Children like to have their mothers rub it on them, because it smells so nice and is such a beautiful green color. It is a pure vegetable oil liniment, which does not evaporate, and you must keep rubbing it in until it is all taken up by the pores. Mothers ought to remember that "a stitch in time saves nine," and keep a bottle of Omega Oil in the house all the time. A bottle of it on the shelf is a necessity in every home. It is a protection and safeguard, much the same as a lock on your door. You may not need it very often, but when you DO need it, you need it bad.

Lose $500,000 Worth of Hogs. Columbus, Neb., Jan. 18.—There prevails in Platte county a disease which has carried off the majority of the hogs. The loss to the farmers is placed at $500,000 in the last three or four months. Men who had 400 to 500 hogs each find themselves, now that the plague has about exhausted itself, with only 10 or 15 hogs, while droves of 100 to 200 head have been completely wiped out.

Refuses to Save R. H. Ferrell. Columbus, O., Jan. 18.—The state board of pardons has refused to interfere in the case of Rosslyn H. Ferrell, who is under sentence to be electrocuted March 1. Ferrell was convicted of the murder of Messenger Charles Lane in an express car. The condemned man's only hope now is intercession by the governor, which is considered entirely improbable.

Gives Up White House Dinner. Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—Although the President's progress toward recovery from his recent attack of grip has been uninterrupted, it is now probable that, acting upon the advice of Dr. Rixey, his physician, the official receptions which were announced for the winter, as well as the cabinet dinners, will be canceled.

Fox Blots from S. R. K. Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 18.—Fifty-five deputy sheriffs were sworn in at Albuquerque and fettled for Gallup, where serious trouble is feared when the Colorado Fuel and Iron company attempts to fill the places of the striking coal miners with new men.

Vigilancia's Condition Critical. Havana, Jan. 18.—The condition of the steamer Vigilancia, which stranded Monday morning about 100 miles from Havana, is more critical, according to late reports.

HURRY UP!

Everywhere one hears that expression "hurry up!" It is a genuine Americanism expressive of the "rush" in which we live. Nothing is swift enough for us. We race against steam and lightning and find them slow. We grudge the time given to eating, and rush through meals as though life depended upon our haste.

Life does depend on our haste, but not in that sense. Look at the obituary columns of the papers and see how many prominent men are carried away by "stomach trouble," "acute indigestion" and other related diseases. Their lives have in general been sacrificed to the haste and rush of business which overlooked the fact that food can only nourish the body when digested and assimilated and that the digestive and assimilative processes can't be hurried.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and the associated organs of digestion and nutrition. The source of all physical strength is food, properly digested and properly assimilated. By enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food "Golden Medical Discovery" increases and enriches the blood supply and sends new strength to every organ of the body.

"I was at one time as I thought almost at death's door," writes Mr. J. S. Bell, of Leando, Vt. Buren Co., Iowa. "I was confined to my house and spent all of the time to my bed. I had taken medicine of all kinds, but they only seemed to feed the disease; but I must say 'Golden Medical Discovery' has cured me, and to-day I am stouter than I have been for twenty years. I am now forty-three years old."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser sent free to you on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send thirty-one cent stamps for cloth bound book or twenty-one stamps for paper covers to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
